Weekly weather-crop bulletin No. 24, for Nebraska, for the week ending Sept. 16th is as follows: "The week was not only relatively, but actually the hottest of the season, averaging about 5 degrees warmer than the middle of July this year, and about 1 degree above the average temperature for the last week in July 1894, which will be remembered as the hottest week of the season. The rainfall has been very deficient, being entirely wanting over a considerable area in the eastern part of the state and less than a quarter of an inch over the greater part of the state. As a result of the high temperature and lack of moisture the late corn has everywhere matured very rapidly and in most cases rather too rapidly for the good of the crop, and in portions of the state where the ground was already quite dry, and in the crop has suffered considerable injury. In the northeastern section the injury has not been so severe. The crop has now either matured or dried out so far that with the exception of some specially late fields it could not be materially injured by frost. Much corn has been cut for fodder and there will generally be plenty of feed although in some cases the corn has dried so fast as to interfere with securing it in good condition. Pastures also have dried out badly during the week." The crops having matured so far this bulletin will be the last for the season.

The new commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., Walker, announces his intentions of bringing a test case in the federal courts to ascertain the legal status of a pensioner. He is of the opinion that the courts will decide that a pension is a vested right, after it has been granted under the law, and consequently cannot be withheld on the whim of either the commissioner of pensions, or of his superior, the secretary of the interior. In other words, that an old soldier's pension cannot be cut down by any process less formal and open than the process by which it was secured. If a decision of that sort is secured from the courts all the arbitrary suspensions and reductions of pensions that have been ordered, without notice to the pensioners, since the advent of the Cleveland administration will be invalid and the defrauded veteran will get the money eventually that has been illegally withheld from him during the past two years and a half.—Journal.

Dr. Sawyer, Dear Sir: Having used your Pastilles, I can recommend them to the public. I have been attended by four different doctors, but none of a half hour of your medicine has done me more good than all of them. Yours respectfully, Mrs. Maggie Johnson, Bronson, Branch County, Mich. Sold by F. H. Longley.

The exports of gold from the United States since the close of 1893 aggregate nearly $170,000,000 in coin and bullion, and the excess of exports over imports in that time was nearly $420,500,000. The difference is much more than the total output from our gold mines in that time, so that the stock of our public and private holdings of gold has diminished since the close of the World's fair, in spite of the three issues of bonds and of what the syndicate has done in maintaining the reserve, since its legal obligation to do so ended some three months ago. The situation is a pitiable outcome of democratic "success," and suggests a repetition of an old-time remark, with a slight variation to make it read: "Another such victory and the country would be ruined."—Chicago Tribune
